

COMMITTEE TO SUNDAY SCHOOL

Confirmation Held Up Until
Thursday at Mayor Kelly's Suggestion.

FIVE BANKERS WILL CONDUCT CITY AUDIT

Mayor C. E. Kelly announced the selection of the following audit committee at the regular meeting of the city council Monday morning: Winchester Cooley, vice president of the Rio Grande Valley Bank and Trust company; T. M. Wingo, president of the American National bank; George F. J. O'Connell, president of the State National bank; James G. McNary, vice president of the First National bank; and C. S. Stewart, president of the City National bank.

Suggests Confirmation Thursday.
In naming the committee, the mayor, addressing the council, said: "While I have named this committee today, I would recommend that you do not confirm these appointments until next Thursday's regular council meeting, in order that anyone who may desire to protest against the appointment of any of these men, may have ample opportunity to do so."

To Report to City Council.
The mayor said further: "The committee will set to work immediately upon its confirmation and will secure auditors to go over the books of the city, and upon completing its labors will make a full report of conditions with recommendations to the city council, and these recommendations will be followed out."

Accept Breakfast Invitation.
The mayor and city council accepted the invitation of H. D. Slater to attend the breakfast to be given Henry George, Jr., at the Harvey house, Tuesday morning at 7:30.

Curb Elevations on Hawthorne Street.
West of West Boulevard, were approved.

To Reopen Removal Order.
Tom Lee, in a letter, asked that the matter of reopening the removal order on Pioneer plaza be reopened at Thursday's meeting, and this was ordered done.

The Application of The Beggars to erect an electric sign over the London hotel on Oregon street was granted.

Paving Bid Accepted.
The bid of the Texas Bitulite company for paving North Virginia street, from Missouri street to Rio Grande street, was accepted.

The petition of L. M. Turner for sewer extension on lots 25 and 26, block 12, Russell's addition, was referred to the sanitary committee.

C. G. Hawkins' request for a reimbursement of $11.76 for repairs to the sewer in front of his residence, was referred to the sanitary committee.

John Miranda and B. F. Rose were granted highway permits.

A resolution ordering the paving of North El Paso street, was adopted.

This is to be paved with asphalt macadam.

The second semi-monthly estimate for paving Union avenue, showing $3541.35 due on this estimate, was allowed and ordered paid.

The City's Health.
The weekly report of city health officer W. H. Anderson showed 11 deaths, of which six were American-born, four Mexicans and one negro. Thirteen births were recorded, of which five were American-born, eight Mexicans. Cases of contagious diseases existing at the time of the report show three smallpox, two scarlet fever, one measles, two diphtheria, one typhoid fever, five diptheria.

Two hundred and eleven inspections were made of meat markets, 292 fruit stands, 407 fruit and vegetable wagons, 65 dairies, 25 milk wagons, 10 laundries, three hundred and eighty-eight pounds of meat, and 53 pounds of fruit were condemned.

Other Reports.
M. P. Malone, plumbing and meter inspector, reported collections amounting to $123.10 for the month of September.

Only One Slight Fire.
Fire marshal Henry F. Reynolds reported that the department was called once during the week, to extinguish a small fire in the kitchen of the El Paso hotel.

Sewer commissioner J. W. Hadlock's report for the week ending September 23, 1911, shows 134 feet of sewer laid, making 609 feet of sewer already laid to connect the main sewer line with the dump of the disposal plant.

His report further says that nearly 1000 feet have been saved by enclosing the fire in a main sewer line, and by installing a gate to close the outlet to the disposal plant.

All of these reports were ordered filed upon receipt.

The council adjourned until 3 o'clock to meet again as a board of appeals, and will hold two days sessions on Wednesday evening, when an adjournment will be taken on a board of appeals.

TINSLEY STILL DRY FARM OFFICER

R. N. Fredericks Represents
Arizona on Executive Committee

Colorado Springs, Colo., Oct. 23.—J. D. Tinsley, executive committee member for New Mexico for the International Dry Farming congress, R. N. Fredericks, of Phoenix, is elected executive committee member for Arizona.

Texas was not represented at the meeting and has no representative on the executive committee.

Martin of El Paso, wrote that he did not care to serve further in this capacity, having already served for three years past as executive committee member from Texas. On his recommendation, the committee selected two executive committee members for Texas by the board of governors of the congress.

JOHN WALSH'S FOLLOWING RELEASE

Chicago, Ill., Oct. 23.—The tragic romance of the life of John R. Walsh ended with his death today of hardening of the heart, aged 74 years.

Just nine days ago he was released on parole from Leavenworth, where he served one year, eight months and 26 days of a five year sentence on a charge of misappropriating $1,000,000 from his banks, the Chicago National, the Equitable Trust and the Home Savings.

CHINESE CITY IN HANDS OF THE REBEL TROOPS

Chief Witness For the State in the McNamara Trial Is Cheerful.

DARROW SAYS TRIAL
TO BE LONG CONTEST

Los Angeles, Cal., Oct. 23.—Judge Burdwell made an important ruling today in the McNamara case. Over the protests of defense he declared that a challenge does not lie against talesman George W. McKee, who testified that he had formed an opinion that the Times was taken up by dynamite.

The most active of the district attorney's staff is the squad that is working on the evidence expected from witnesses for the state. Attention is being given especially to lining up those witnesses who are expected to corroborate the alleged confession of Orville B. McManis, the admitted strongest card of the prosecution.

Predicts Other Surprises.
"Yes, there'll be more than one surprise before this case is over," said McKee quickly, as he played host with several small chairs which he moved near to his callers.

"I watch more now than when I first came in," he added, "and I'm feeling well."

He talked rapidly and without hesitation, answered questions glibly, even indulging occasionally in a bit of reminiscence on incidents occurring in the Wisconsin woods, where he and James R. McNamara were supposed to have been hunting together.

Finally the question was put to him as to why he had made the reported confession.

"Well, he answered with a drawl, "a fellow knows when he's caught, and there was nothing else for me to do. I wanted to be with my wife and baby again."

"But your wife is suing for divorce," said McKee.

"Well," he said, "I'm sorry I love my wife and my child, but I think I shall be with them again some time. Some day the situation will right itself. My wife has tried to win me over to the other side of this case, but I can't and I am going to make a clean breast of the whole matter."

And the witness, in his conversation, exhibited no bitterness, talking freely of his previous acquaintance with them.

James R. McNamara, who was about James R. McNamara, in his connection, "He's no structural iron worker, but a first-class engineer. He's not more intelligent, no, than he looks."

Asked whether James R. McNamara's present attitude was characteristic, he answered in the affirmative.

"John J. is a bright man," was his comment on the older of the two brothers under indictment.

Though relying to a great extent on McKee's expected testimony, the state has made no announcement that its evidence is strong enough to get a conviction without McKee's aid.

Will Be Six Months' Trial.
The work of selecting the jury has been estimated at six months. On this basis it is believed by some that it will take at least six months to hear the first case. Attorneys for the defense have made no announcement as to the number of witnesses they will call. To date they have not asked that any state for his oratory and ability as a pleader, but about 200 will be summoned by them before the final argument.

The legal batteries for the defense are being directed by Clarence Darrow, lawyer, philosopher, labor leader and orator. Associated with him are La Combe Davis, who has been prominent in almost every criminal case in southern California during the last 10 years; Joseph Scott, former president of the chamber of commerce, prominent Catholic layman, president of the city board of education, and known through the state for his oratory and ability as a pleader; and Job Harriman, Socialist candidate for mayor.

Attorney for Defense.
Besides these lawyers an able corps of detectives under the direction of attorney John L. Harrington of Chicago is assisting. Three weekly newspapers are being published in the interests of the McNamara brothers here, and a solid organization has been effected in every city precinct to benefit Harriman's fight for the mayoralty. It is estimated that at least $1,000,000 has been spent by the defense in the complete preparation of their case.

No information has been given as to the time of defense which will be presented. Many rumors have it that Mr. Darrow and his associates will argue the case without calling a single witness, but this is being denied.

It is that the defense will admit a number of points in evidence which will be made by the prosecution, and that they will be able to present an explanation which will show that the entire case is a conspiracy to injure labor.

Mr. McKee has been openly charged that McNamara is an employee of the Burn detective agency, and that he was employed a number of years ago. This charge has been denied by Burns and other officers interested in the prosecution's case.

NINE KILLED IN AN EXPLOSION

Harrisburg, Ill., Oct. 23.—Nine men were killed, 19 badly injured and brought to the surface, and 15 imprisoned by a cave-in at the result of an explosion at Ogara mine No. 2.

View of the city of Hankow, now in the hands of the Chinese rebels. The seat of the revolutionary party was situated in Hankow and the plans for the overthrow of the empire were formulated here.

REBELS WILL MOVE UP TO NEW YORK

Madero's Partisans Object to His Cabinet—Revolutionary Troubles Grow.

ZAPATA BLOWS UP
MORE BRIDGES

Mexico City, Mex., Oct. 23.—To avoid the appearance of connection with any revolutionary movement against the imperial government and now recalled in Mexico, general Francisco I. Madero, who is now in New York, according to private advice received here.

Partisans of Madero here are not altogether pleased with his cabinet. They have sent a formal protest to him against the retention of Ernesto Madero, minister of finance, Rafael Teran, minister of justice, and Manuel C. Carrasco, minister of education.

The only objection offered is that these men were too closely identified with the old regime.

Revolutions Activity Increases.
Two bridges blown out on the Inter-Oceanic railroad, one station burned down, and battles with federal troops from Sunday's record of the Zapata campaign.

The apparent inability of the government to capture Zapata or to put down his insurrection leads to the belief that the pacification of the south will require a long time.

Big Bridge Destroyed.
The bridge destroyed Sunday was near the state line of Morelos and Mexico. The longer of the two bridges destroyed was 15 feet long. A general official estimates the number of Zapatistas at 500. A trainload of troops was sent to the raided district from Cuernavaca.

The rebels were defeated, but fatalities were small.

Zapata's raids are no longer confined to Morelos, but are conducted in various states of Puebla, Guerrero and Oaxaca.

Sinaloa and Tabasco.
Second in importance to the Zapata insurrection is the state of affairs in Sinaloa, where the former revolutionary general, Juan Bandera, is active again.

The little revolt in Tabasco, where the rebels occupied one town in the name of Gen. Bernardo Reyes, "president of Mexico," has not spread.

Sunday federal troops were sent to Poncitlan, a town of Jalisco, to quell Indians. The country was in revolt.

The explanation of this uprising is that the Indians believed that they were to become land owners through the beneficence of the state.

Revolt in San Luis Potosi.
The fifth of the insurrections is that of Jose Pierre Castro, in the state of San Luis Potosi. Castro is a wealthy landowner who took the field during the revolution. Last week he proclaimed himself a fighter under the banner of Reyes. Reports today are that he has recruited more men, well equipped.

QUIET AT MONTEREY WITH MADERO THERE

Man Draws Pistol as Madero Ailights; Is Locked in Penitentiary

Monterey, Mex., Oct. 23.—No notices of any disorders have reached the police headquarters in this city. Several newspapers which have been supporting Gen. Reyes during the presidential campaign have hinted that there might be some disorders during the demonstration while Madero was in the city, but complete order was maintained during the events which were arranged for his entrance.

It has just got out that an individual by the name of Pedro Carbajal was arrested at the union station during the arrival of the revolution. Last week and party by the secret police, charged with intentions of assassinating senior Madero.

The man was discovered in the act of producing a revolver from his pocket when Madero stepped from the train and was quietly taken to the penitentiary by the secret service men without any undue commotion which might be noticeable to the thousands of people who were present to greet Madero.

TUCUMCARI MAN IS RELEASED FROM PRISON

Leavenworth, Kan., Oct. 23.—Following the commutation of their sentences for postoffice robbery in New Mexico, George Cook, of Tucumcari, and Will McNeil, of Wetumka, Okla., were released today.

THE POISON RECEPTACLE MISSING

Efforts to Clear Up Mystery of Boston Girl's Death Are Baffling.

MINISTER IS STILL IN JAIL

Boston, Mass., October 22.—In efforts to clear up the circumstances of the death of Miss Linell, the Hyannis Sunday school teacher and music student, with whose murder the Rev. Clarence V. T. Richardson is charged, the police have been unable, it is said, to locate the receptacle which held the poison.

The police are still endeavoring to clear up the details of the alleged meeting October 14 between Rev. Mr. Richardson and Miss Linell. Miss Linell's stomach is being chemically analyzed by professor Whitney of Harvard medical school.

Receptacle Found.
When the girl took the dose of cyanide of potassium which caused her death, she was in the bathroom of the Y. W. C. A. home, and though the house was searched immediately after her death, the poison receptacle could not be found. At first it was given to a piece of paper found beside the body had contained the poison, but this is now denied by the police.

General Yuan Shi Kai, the famous Chinese leader, once disgraced by the imperial government and now recalled in extremity to head the imperial army, Gen. Kai organized the Chinese army into an effective fighting corps.

Receptacle Found.
When the girl took the dose of cyanide of potassium which caused her death, she was in the bathroom of the Y. W. C. A. home, and though the house was searched immediately after her death, the poison receptacle could not be found. At first it was given to a piece of paper found beside the body had contained the poison, but this is now denied by the police.

Deputy superintendent Watts said that he had information of a person characterizing Mr. Richardson as a man on which the girl took the poison. This information was given to the police by a young woman who is not a member of the Young Women's Christian association, but who was on the street late Saturday afternoon.

Miss Linell told me, said deputy Watts' informant, that she had just dined with Richardson, and that she was going home, as she was suffering from a headache.

Flames Is Ill.
Miss Violet Edmunds, the fiancée of Richardson, is said to be ill as a result of the shock which she received when her husband was taken to jail. The Edmunds family physician has made frequent visits to the Edmunds home during the last few days. It has also been reported that Mr. Richardson has released his fiancée from her engagement, but her father, when questioned by the matter, refused to discuss it.

Nor would Mr. Edmunds say whether the death of his daughter or himself is behind the retention of counsel for Mr. Richardson. It has been said that Miss Edmunds assured the minister before her husband was taken to jail that he could command all her property if necessary for his defense.

The young woman is believed to serve about $10,000 dollars and her father is reputed a millionaire.

ITALIAN DEFEAT IS REPORTED BY TURKS

War Cloud Gathers Over Colombia, Which Prepares For War

Berlin, Germany, Oct. 23.—Special dispatches from Constantinople say the Turkish ministry of the interior has news that the Turks and Arabs have defeated 8000 Italians near Barka. The Italians lost 700 and Turks 115. The Italians lost quantities of arms and ammunition.

Colombia Prepares for War.
Panama, Republic of Colombia, confirms the report that Colombia is preparing for war. The Colombian congress has unanimously voted a credit of $2,000,000 to fortify Tumaco, port in the southwest part of the republic, and also Buena Ventura, and for the purchase of arms and ammunition.

The government is reported to be raising money throughout the country by subscription.

FROSTS OCCUR IN SEVERAL TEXAS PLACES

Dallas, Tex., Oct. 23.—Reports last night from a score of points in the Texas and Oklahoma cotton belt indicate that a wide area in both states has been visited by killing frosts.

Cold at Monterrey.
Monterrey, Mex., Oct. 23.—The thermometer fell Saturday afternoon to 15 above zero. Contrary to a brisk gale from the northeast struck the city about half past 11 o'clock and continued through the rest of the day. Overcoats and winter clothing were pulled out by everyone who possessed any and those who did not nearly froze to death.

PUSHING WORK IN ARIZONA BY PEARSON

Candidates of Republicans and Democrats to Be Selected in Election.

MANY MEN OUT FOR THE JOBS

Phoenix, Ariz., Oct. 23.—Tomorrow is the day when the die is cast so far as the first primaries for the new state of Arizona are concerned. The balloting on that day determines whether it is to be R. W. Wells or George U. Young for governor on the Republican ticket, and whether on the Democratic ticket the first nominee for the highest state office will be Theo. F. Weedin or George W. P. Hunt. Dr. H. A. Hughes, in a signed statement today withdrew from the race for governor and announced that he will be a candidate at the second state election.

The Democrats have three candidates for congress and all three are good men and it will be hard to choose between Lamar Cobb, Carl Hayden and Buford Winsor. The Republicans have named only John S. Williams.

The keenest interest attaches to the vote of two United States senators, though this vote is only advisory. In the case of the Republican ticket, the question is already settled, as only Ralph A. Cameron and Hovall Smith have been nominated. But on the Democratic ticket there are six nominees out of which to select two candidates. Marcus A. Smith seems to be a foregone conclusion in most quarters. If he is elected, the other two will be Eugene S. O'Neill and H. L. Pearson.

The nominees for the office of corporation commissioner on the Democratic ticket are the only ones who have done much campaigning. Still there is a lively interest everywhere in state and county tickets.

Reports from Douglas indicate that the Good Roads celebration last week had taken a back seat on account of the presence in that city of a very large number of political candidates. There were no public political meetings, and the celebration of the close of the celebration of the political season of their departure to different parts of the state, stopping here and there to catch up on their campaign.

After tomorrow there will be a real race.

BALL QUILTS THE SENATORIAL RACE

Says He Is Afraid His Candidacy Will Hurt Ramsey's Cause

Houston, Texas, Oct. 23.—Thos. H. Ball has issued the following:

"When urged by numbers of friends throughout the state to become a candidate for governor against governor Colquitt, I declined because I had stated at the Waco mass convention of which I was chairman, to further my personal or political interests or for office."

"Judge Ramsey decided to announce for governor and I pledged him my support. Believing his election would result in the honor and interest of Texas and give opportunity to curb the activity of the liquor interests in Texas politics, and put the saloons out of business."

"Senator Bailey having announced his purpose to retire at the end of his term, I gave word to my friends throughout the state to become a candidate to succeed him, and, because I was chairman of the prohibition cause, or the organization of which I was chairman, to further my personal or political interests or for office."

"Since my announcement, from the tone of a number of newspapers and information reaching me from various quarters, it seems that there is a marked desire to charge me either with inconsistency or inconstancy in becoming a candidate for governor, and an unwillingness to let the controversy which has prevailed in Texas be the personality of senator Bailey."

"I am not willing to pay the price for the senatorship the loss of confidence in me would necessarily result. I would not, however, for any considerable part of the citizenship of Texas who might be misled by ungenerous critics into the belief that my candidacy was regrettable to any statement by me made."

"The conflicting thought with me, however, that the equipment of confidence in me would necessarily result in some extent, discredited the cause which honored me in the late prohibition campaign, and I would not risk for any consideration, however great."

"I believe, therefore, that it is my duty to withdraw from the contest for senator, in the hope that I will be able to better advance the principles and public policies for which I stand and to contribute to the success of Judge Ramsey's candidacy more effectively as a private citizen than I could as a candidate."

Removing Crews From the Branch Has Been Done to Expedite Work.

SITE OF PANT IN EL PASO SURVEYED

Work on the branch line of the Mexico North Western from the Continental tunnel on the main line to Chihuahua has been temporarily suspended and the construction crews ordered to work on the main line between the two big tunnels in order that the line may be opened through from Madera to Juarez by January 1.

The Mexican revolution set the Pearson company back six months in the construction of its main line, and as the product of the big mine at Madera has been accumulating, it has been found advisable to rush the work on the main line. For this reason the branch line work after the two sections has been completed in the most economical manner, H. C. Ferris, general manager of the North Western, says.

Does Not Affect Operations.
The temporary abandonment of the work on the line from the Continental tunnel to the front will have no effect upon the general operations of the Pearson company, either in Mexico or the United States. The line to the timber belt is now graded and practically completed for 20 kilometers, and requires only the final grading to complete the main line as soon as possible and return the crews to the branch line work after the two sections have been connected up and trains were running through from Madera to Juarez.

A line from Pearson west to Pachuca, 48 kilometers in length, is being built by L. E. Booker in order to tap the timber land owned by him in that section of Chihuahua.

Pearls Tell About It.
"We are slowing down on the work of the branch line to the front, as general manager H. C. Ferris of the North Western, said. "There are yet 25 kilometers to go before we can reach the timber belt. It is our wish to hasten the work on this line in order to have it completed by January 1, if possible. The line from Continental tunnel to the front for the railroad is practically completed, and will be completed within two weeks. It is more important that we complete the main line than the branch line, and our forces are being concentrated on the remaining part of the main line right away."

Under the present conditions, the branch line has no other significance, and work will be resumed on it as soon as the main line is completed.

It is said that the Pearson engineers have been making a survey of the site of the Pearson plant in El Paso in order that the freight for the railroad and street crossings could be made. These crossings must be made to order, and the crew has been at work making measurements for these frogs.

COLQUITT HAD A GOOD TIME HERE

Governor Returns to Austin and Says He Was Really Treated

Austin, Tex., Oct. 23.—Governor Colquitt returned today with other members of the party from their visit to El Paso.

The governor said he enjoyed his trip to El Paso very much and was really treated. He leaves tonight for Dallas, where he will remain during the week and leave from there for New Orleans to attend the cotton conference.

Governor Colquitt denied the story sent out of El Paso that he had moved to the banquet given the visiting governors to endorse the Taft administration.

The governor said that he was in El Paso for a fair chance to see the people of Texas regardless of country politics. This was in view of the fact that the governors of Arizona and New Mexico were appointees of president Taft.

DR. WILEY PAYS SUFFRAGE TRIBUTE

Country That Treats Its Women Right Is Always Great

Louisville, Ky., Oct. 23.—"If a country treats its women right and eats more sugar pie than any other country, then it is the greatest country," said Dr. H. W. Wiley, chief of the government chemistry bureau, in his address to the National American Woman Suffrage convention.

Dr. Wiley had been introduced by Dr. Anna Howard Shaw, president of the association, as "the man who is trying to give us a fair chance to live."

He began by summing up the things that make for a country's greatness, narrowing the test down to the three female traits. By these traits, he concluded, America is first.

WET GROUNDS CAUSE FOURTH POSTPONEMENT

Philadelphia, Pa., Oct. 23.—Too wet to play was the decision today when the Shibe park diamond was inspected with a view of resuming the world series games. The decision referred to the grounds, not to the weather, for the rains have ceased, and but for the soggy condition of the grounds a game would have been possible.

The members of the Philadelphia team reported at the grounds as usual today and put on their uniforms for practice along the side lines.

The New York players expect to take part in a little work on the National league grounds. Overhead, the day is fine for baseball, the sun is shining brightly and a good breeze is blowing.

The present world's series is a record breaker for breaking records. Not only have the series exceeded the figures for attendance and receipts at one game, but the record for the number of postponements of one game has also gone by the board. Today was the fourth postponement of the fourth game.

A game will in all probability be played tomorrow, and the pitchers probably will be Mathewson and Bender.
